Carolyn Combs, former molecular biologist, shares her passion for animals and the natural world with children through her writing. She loves doing research and is inspired by the cougars and coyotes who roam near her home in Colorado, as well as by memories of exploring the forests of New Hampshire with her grandfather. When she's not reading or writing, she's hiking or training her clever poodle and a brilliant, rescued pig, named Frankie. Her debut picture book, What's This Tail Saying?, illustrated by Cathy Morrison, is available now (Dawn Publications, an imprint of Sourcebooks). Visit her online at carolyncombsbooks.com.

After growing up in New York, Lynn Becker spent many years in the Southern California desert with her husband, children, cats, dog, and lots and lots of chickens. She now lives in Colorado. The chickens stayed behind, but a few mythical beasts may have followed her to her new home...! Her picture book, Monsters in the Briny, illustrated by Scott Brundage (Sleeping Bear Press), has been named a Bank Street College Best Children's Book of 2022 and was shortlisted for a Reading the West award. June Moon, illustrated by Nate Carvalho (Familius), comes out in 2024.
